

ALERT TO YOUNG ADULTS!

If you are under 35, as I am, you will be paying for the huge costs of the president's proposal for Climate-gate and Health-Care; the prestigious CATO Institute (Individual Liberty, Free Markets, and Peace, located in Washington, D.C.,) released a study which found that, under these programs, our Health-Care premiums will double or triple to subsidize the program for those over 55, and we will also be financially impacted by the resulting costs of the absurd Climate-gate program. Young adults must also be aware that we will be forced to purchase health insurance at an age when we barely need it, or will have to pay a fine around $4,000 per year.

Young Americans, regardless of party affiliation, have a huge stake in the Health-Care debate, but have been purposely ignored by the president, Congress and the Liberal media. The law will also reduce ½ a Trillion from Medicare, reduce prescriptions and prevention testing for healing according to the person's age causing long delays before treatment. The result of this: the young will have to become responsible for paying crucial care if they want to keep their parents alive.

Few people really think about the financial consequences to young Americans. We're facing higher unemployment rates since older, more experienced workers are willing to take lower-paying jobs. We also are entering life with a lot more debt than our parents could ever imagine.

Due to the high competitive market of today, to get a stable job that pays a decent salary, you have to earn a college degree and, in many cases, you must also need a graduate degree to get ahead. Think of this: $23,000 in undergraduate student loans. That's before rent, insurance, car loans and credit card debt.

Congressional intervention has largely hurt college students. More demand allows colleges to raise tuition rates. Students can't afford this, so Congress claims to help you by raising the ceiling allowing you to borrow more in federal loans? Big Help! This causes private loans to raise their cap. Since more money is available to students, colleges continue to raise tuition. So your Student Loan will be higher! Got it?

What happens when you have so much debt? Since you can't find a job due to the recession, you must move back home with mom and dad becoming a boomerang kid. Since it takes you a couple of years to get started in life, everything is postponed: marriage, buying a house, investments, retirement savings, starting a family... I know a lot of people who spend the first year after college interning without pay. They're working professional jobs for free!

Now financial responsibility must also be factored in. Credit-card companies prey on college students. Due to inexperience, some students — and adults — don't understand basic economics or personal budgeting and quickly get into debt = DISASTER.

YOUNG AMERICANS MUST TAKE ACTION: share this information with your peers!
